

Drumbeat Indian Arts, Inc.
 4143 North 16th Street
 Phoenix Arizona 85016
 602-266-4823 / 800-895-4859
 Fax 602-265-2402
 www.drumbeatindianarts.com
 azdrumbeat@aol.com

A SAMPLE OF SOME BOOKS ON THE CHEROKEE

Cherokee Women
 Theda Perdue
 252 pages $15.95

A well-documented, carefully argued book written in lively and engaging prose. It is to the authors credit that she is able to recreate the values and behavior of Cherokee women through court records, myths, and observers' court. By examining women's roles in farming and community life, the author argues that women were co-equal contributors to Cherokee culture.
 0-8032-8760-7

Friends of Thunder
 Jack F. Kilpatrick & Anna G. Kilpatrick
 201 pages $12.95

This Cherokee husband and wife team recorded and transcribed these folk tales in 1961. They helped to preserve the lore of seventeen elder Oklahoma Cherokees. This volume includes a wide variety of folklore: talking-animal stories, tales of a dragon-like creature and other monsters, accounts of little people inhabiting the hills of eastern Oklahoma, variants of European tales, fragments of Cherokee mythology and cosmology, and legends and lore of historical personages and events. The authors present the stories exactly as they were told, adding brief comments to place the stories clearly in the context of Cherokee life and thought. Musical notations are included wherever a song formed part of a story.
 0-8061-2722-8

Fire and the Spirits
 Rennard Strickland
 260 pages $19.95

This book traces the emergence of the Cherokee system of laws from the ancient spirit decrees to the fusion of the tribal law ways with Anglo-American law. The author provides a brief review of Cherokee history and explains the circumstances surrounding the stages of development of the legal system. Of particular interest is a series of charts explaining the complex Cherokee spirit system of crimes (or "deviations") and the punishments meted out for them.
 0-8061-1619-6

Trail of Tears - The Rise and Fall of the Cherokee Nation
 John Ehle
 424 pages $14.95

A beautifully written and emotionally mature book. There is almost profound wisdom about Cherokee life deeply embedded in these pages. A touching regard for the heroism of the tribe during the Trail of Tears journey.
 0-385-23954-8

Cherokee Americans
 John R. Finger
 247 pages $14.95

Much has been written about the forced removal of thousands of Cherokee Indians to present-day Oklahoma in the 1830's. Many of them died on the Trail of Tears. But until recently historians have largely ignored the tribal remnant that avoided removal and remained in North Carolina. This book shifts attention to the Eastern Bank of Cherokees, descended from that remnant and now numbering almost ten thousand, most of whom live on a reservation adjacent to Great Smoky Mountain National Park. Ironically, this is the first comprehensive account of the twentieth-century experience of a band that is known to and photographed by millions of tourists.
 0-8032-6879-3

The Cherokees
 Grace Steele Woodward
 355 pages $24.95

Of the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians the Cherokees were early recognized as the greatest and the most civilized. Between 1540 and 1906 they reached a higher peak of civilization than any other North American tribe. They invented a syllabary and developed an intricate government. They published their own newspaper in both Cherokee and English and became noted orators and statesmen. At the beginning their conquest of civilization was slow and uncertain. War lords of the southern Appalachian Highlands, they were loath to expend their energies elsewhere. But, led or driven, they were forced by circumstances to transfer their concentration on war to problems posed by the white man. They had to turn from the conquests of war to the conquest of civilization. A well-written and absorbing book.
 0-8061-1815-6

Prices subject to change without notice.

History, Myth's and Sacred Formulas of the Cherokees

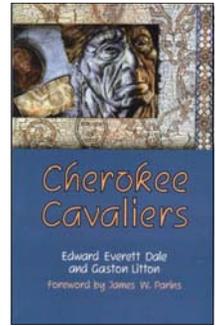

James Mooney
397 pages $18.95

This edition contains the full texts of Myths of the Cherokee and The Sacred Formulas of the Cherokees as originally published by the bureau of American Ethnology in 1900 and 1891, respectively. The biographical introduction was written in 1992 by George Ellison this edition. In these writings, the memory and culture, the mind and spirit of a great people, the Cherokees, were saved from irreparable loss by the effort of a gifted anthropologist.
0-914875-19-1

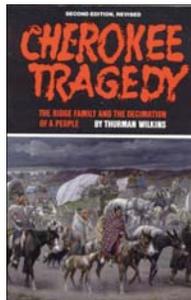

Cherokee Cavaliers
Edward Everett Dale & Gaston Litton
319 pages $21.95

The 200 letters in this volume chronicle more than forty years of history in the old Cherokee Nation - from removal through the Civil War to Reconstruction - as recorded in the correspondence of the Ridge-Watie-Boudinot families. The minority leaders in the Nation, they were better known as the "Treaty Party." In 1835 they agreed to removal of the Cherokee Nation westward to Indian Territory. As a consequence the family leaders were assassinated by the opposing faction under Chief John Ross. Here, arranged in sequence with annotation and chapter introductions by the authors, are the lives and thoughts of such proud cavaliers of Cherokee blood as John Rollin Ridge, Stand Watie, and E.C. Boudinot.
0-8061-2721-X

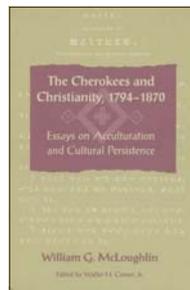

Cherokee Tragedy
Thurman Wilkins
416 pages $24.95

Superbly researched. Sympathetically written. A classic in the field of Cherokee history. A moving biography of the Ridge-Watie family in the years 1790-1840. This volume gives new insights into white America's betrayal of the native Americans from whom it stole a continent. The story of the Ridge family's part in that struggle captures the heart of the tragic conflict.
0-8061-2188-2

The Cherokees and Christianity, 1794-1870
William G. McLoughlin
347 pages $21.95

The essays that compose this book explore the important theme of acculturation and cultural persistence within the Cherokee Nation. The author examines how the process of religious acculturation worked within the Cherokee Nation during the nineteenth century. More concerned with Cherokee "Christianization" than Cherokee "civilization," these eleven essays cover the various stages of cultural confrontation with Christian imperialism.
0-8203-1639-3

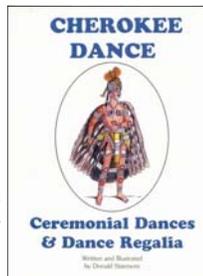

How to Make Cherokee Clothing
Donald Sizemore
304 pages $23.95

There are few books available with detailed instructions and illustrations on how to make Cherokee clothing. The purpose of this book is to record and preserve the old way of dress, not leaving the subject to vague and unclear memories of the past. Beautifully illustrated.
0-935741-19-4

Cherokee Dance
Donald Sizemore
304 pages $24.95

The purpose of this book is to record the author's extensive knowledge of traditional Cherokee dance and dance regalia so that the old ways can be preserved for generations to come. Beautiful illustrations with descriptive notes. Instructions on how to do the dances.
0-935741-21-6

The Cherokee People
Thomas E. Mails
368 pages $50.00

Well known as are the Cherokees today, enthralling veils of mystery surround important questions concerning the great nation and its individual citizens: Where did they originate, and when did they first establish their home in southeastern North America? What were this home and ancient culture like? What were the physical characteristics of the Cherokees? How did they dress? Were they warlike? Were they religious? Were they creative? In beautifully detailed text and illustrations, the author answers these questions, and in the process tells an absorbing story about the remarkable Cherokee people. This is the story of the Cherokee people from the most ancient times to present day. The author brings together pictures, facts, personal observations, and interviews with contemporary Cherokees to show how the ancient traditions have survived and are practiced among these amazingly adaptable people in our day.
0-933031-45-9

